Sew, What's New at the Shop?

When Mother Nature decides to take out her paintbrush and artfully let us know the new colors of the seasons have arrived, it's time to start thinking of cozy fireplaces, steaming mugs of spiced apple cider and hot cocoa, and of course, new quilts for the home and hearth. We celebrate this time of year with new fabrics, new books, and new patterns to get some new seasonal décor into your home.

Lovely batiks in autumnal orange, brown, and greens, and new jersey suedes in luscious shades of dusky rose-y mauve and soft aqua provide a new palette of colors for a warm winter quilt. Add a cool gray batik and a deep green for a fresh outlook on the cold season. New batik prints will help you coordinate your colors for a beautiful throw or lap quilt to keep you (and loved ones) warm all through the autumn and winter.

Are you celebrating the arrival of a new little one in your family? Baby quilts are as much fun to make as they are to receive, and work up quickly for an upcoming shower or welcome visit! Try a modern twist on a traditional pattern with the latest color combination of yellow and gray (very gender-neutral, too!). An adorable print of pale yellow and shadowy zebras and giraffes on a light gray background will welcome the newest arrival in style! Add a gray animal print on white and you have a completed look all ready to go.

For some inspiration for new projects to show off your new colors, try our new patterns and books. Recall fun memories of television shows that you loved when you were growing up with quilts from Season Premier, a collection of fat quarter friendly throws that celebrate those wonderful times. Better Homes and Gardens offers lovely projects that can be completed quickly in the best of Weekend Quilts. Enjoy the popularity of pennant banners with Holly Holderman's Pennants pattern. Clever placement of colored cones among neutral ones will create a fun quilt that can be personalized with favorite colors. Seasons Gone Pie has some wonderful Autumn projects just in time to enjoy sewing for the cool weather.

With holidays just around the corner, get ready for Halloween with a pattern for Twister Jack, a friendly jack-o-lantern who comes to life with the help of a 'Lil Twister ruler. And with Christmas coming soon Christmas Sparkle offers plenty of gift ideas to create for family and friends.
